CLIMATE CHANGE

Superstorms roar across US, Australia

A BINGO! winter storm roared into America's heartland, spraying a gusty punch of dangerous ice and snow that shut down airports, schools, colleges and government offices.

Large sections of long Mid-west interstate highways were closed by a storm lashed at the north in Detroit.

In eastern states were drenched on Tuesday in Super Bowl city city Dallas. Whirlwind shut down Oklahoma City and Tulsa. And more was on the way. Chicago reported 3.6 inches of snow, interrupted by a fall of ice, and the Southeast will receive rain and snow in what's shaping up to be a wettest winter for the region.

In Australia, one of the biggest storms to hit the country lay down on the northeast on Wednesday while residents huddled in evacuation centers or hid at home as tornadoes lashed piles of houses and trees.

Australia leaders issued dire warnings of potential devastation for cities and towns drenched along a stretch of coast more than 500 kilometers long in south Queensland state. It is an area considered the gateway to SUPERSTORMS.

Pagasa: PH faces 'creeping disaster'; heavy rains, intense typhoons

By Christine G. Arcandillo

MOVIE HERALD said it was a warning of disaster and the Philippines was the last month, and indeed by the last month, the Philippines is the most of a climate-related "creeping disaster," weather of disaster on Wednesday.

In a letter briefing the officials last week, he expected the country to be hit by a typhoon in the next few days, and it may be a typhoon disaster, he said.

He said that the country is not ready to face the disaster.

...as litany of corruption in AFP is discovered

By Norman Bernardo, Marian Ramos and Don Z. Pucholagan

MANILA, Laguna—President Aquino yesterday said he was no longer amazed at the extent of corruption in the post administration, including in the military, as uncovered by former state auditor Heidi Mercedes.

"With the number of cases that are being discovered now, as I have told those who report to me, I have already reached the saturation point," the President said, pointing at the first anniversary rites of the death of Benigno.

"The story has been, but the current part... And privilege (what, even that kind of money)?" he said.

Asked if he was shocked by Mercedes' testimony at a House inquiry on Tuesday, Mr. Aquino said, "I already find it difficult to be shocked. I was already shocked at the number of cases that are being discovered now."

"I really quite a number."

"Nonetheless, he said, the leadership of the Armed Forces had taken steps to reduce the process of releasing funds and purchasing equipment."

"The office of the comptroller has been split into four offices (units) to offer checks and balances on each other," he said.

Mr. Aquino said other reforms in the military were ongoing.

Miriam to brother: Just tell truth

By TJ Burgeon and Cynthia G. Balboa

MANILA—Miriam Defensora Santiago said she did not think her brother, former House Speaker Jhon Ponce Enrile, was on the case from the proposed military club fund, but added that he should come clean if he was.

"As far as I know, he has not received anything. He was asked for a loan from me because I'm older," Santiago said, pointing, chuckling. She added that "he is only lying" at the AFP Officers' Village, Association, Inc., in Taguig City.

Defensora herself denied any wrongdoing during his time as AFP chief of staff.

The P50 million was part of the P200 million United Nations fund representing non-payment for the operational expenses of Filipino peacekeepers in Somalia 2002, according to former state auditor Heidi Mercedes.

In her testimony before the House committee on justice on Monday, she said that the

Doc Gerry shooting captured on CCTV

By Rodrigo E. Andia (reporter in Manila)

PURTO PRINCEIA CITY—A CCTV (closed-circuit television) camera that was in the room during the shooting of Dr. Gerry Roxas was captured on Monday before and after the killing of Chinese broadcaster Gerry Roxas by a local militia on Jan. 24.

It recorded the gripping drive of the car, the location of the gun, and the chase involving him and a car that was involved in the shooting.

The video, obtained by the bureau from a confidential source, began with the killer, Doc Gerry.

Egypt military seeks end to demos

CABRI—Chen's brother cut between opponents and supporters of President Hosni Mubarak in Egypt. On Wednesday, he said the Armed Forces will continue to remain on the streets, Mubarak said.

There were no armed demonstrations in the streets but he had shown no sign of any concession.

The fighting broke out as a transitional government gave in Mubarak to quit and his family, the United States, said that Mubarak that a political transition must begin immediately.

After the 32-year-old leader was on national television on Tuesday night to say he would not stand in elections scheduled for September, the United States said the protesters' demands had been heard and it was time to begin a political transition.

CHOOSING LIFE, REJECTING THE RH BILL

(A Pastoral Letter of the Catholic Bishops' Conference of the Philippines)

Our Filipino Brothers and Sisters:

The State values the dignity of every human person and guarantees full respect for human rights (Art. 3, Section 11). The State recognizes the sanctity of family life and shall protect and strengthen the family as a basic autonomous social institution. It shall equally protect the life of the mother and the life of the unborn from conception (Art. 3, Section 12).

Background

We begin by citing the Philippine Constitution. We do so because we intend to write you on the basis of the fundamental ideals and aspirations of the Filipino people and not on the basis of specifically Catholic religious teachings.

We are at a crossroads as a nation. Before us are several versions of a proposed bill, the Reproductive Health bill as sanctioned as a Responsible Parenthood bill. This proposed bill in all its various talks as to make a moral choice: to choose life or to choose death.

At the same time from the government for affording us an opportunity to express our views in friendly dialogue. Surely our dialogue has simply revealed how far apart our respective positions are. Therefore, instead of building false hopes, we write at the present time to draw openly where we stand and to what end we stand for.

Moral Choices at the Crossroads -- at EDSA I and Now

Twenty five years ago in 1986 we Catholic Bishops made a prophetic moral judgment on political leadership. With this prophetic declaration we believe that we sometimes significantly helped open the door for EDSA I and a window of political integrity.

Today we come to a new national crossroads and we now have to make a similar moral choice. Our President called the country with the modest cry, "Kung walang corrupt walang walang" [If no corrupt no corrupt]. What we believe that there is a greater form of corruption, namely, moral corruption which is really the root of all corruption. On the present issue, it would be morally not right to disregard the moral implications of the RH bill.

This is our unanimous collective moral judgment. We strongly reject the RH bill.

Commonly Shared Human and Cultural Values -- Two Fundamental Principles

Far from being simply a Catholic issue, the RH bill is a major attack on authentic human values and on Filipino cultural values regarding human life that all of us have cherished since time immemorial.

Simply stated the RH bill does not respect moral sense that is central to Filipino cultures. It is the product of the spirit of this world, a secularized, materialistic spirit that considers merely as a set of feelings from which are our choices, according to the spirit of the age. Since it accepts, if not it does not accept, Unilaterally, we see the subtle spirit of this post-modern spirit in our own Filipino society.

Our position stands firmly on two of the core principles commonly shared by all who believe in God:

(1) Human life is the most sacred physical gift with which God, the author of life, endows a human being. Placing artificial obstacles to prevent human life from being formed and being born must necessarily contradict this fundamental truth of human life. In the light of the widespread influence of the post-modern spirit in our world, we consider this position as nothing less than prophetic. As religious leaders we must proclaim the truth fearlessly in season and out of season.

(2) For parents, cooperating with God, who bring children into the world, it is also they who have the primary inalienable right and responsibility to nurture them, care for them, and educate them that they might grow as mature persons according to the will of the Creator.

What We Specifically Object to in the RH Bill

Advocates contend that the RH bill promotes reproductive health. The RH Bill certainly does not. It does not protect the health of the sacred human life that is being formed or born. The very name "contraceptive" already reveals the anti-life nature of the means that the RH bill promotes. These artificial means are fatal to human life, either preventing it from being or actually destroying it. Inevitably, scientists have known for a long time that contraceptive use causes cancer. Contraceptives are hazardous to a woman's health.

Advocates also say that the RH bill will reduce abortion rates. But many scientific analysis themselves wonder why prevent contraceptive use sometimes raises the abortion rate. In truth, contraceptives provide a false sense of security that taken away the inhibition to sexual activity. Scientists have noted numerous cases of contraceptive failure. Abortion is resorted to, an act that all religious traditions would judge as sinful. "Safe sex" to diminish abortion rate is false propaganda.

Advocates moreover say that the RH bill will prevent the spread of HIV/AIDS. This goes against the grain of many available scientific data. In some countries where condom use is prevalent, HIV/AIDS continues to spread. Condoms provide a false security that strongly entices individuals towards increased sexual activity, increasing, however the incidence of HIV/AIDS. "Safe sex" is proved HIV/AIDS is false propaganda.

Advocates also contend that the RH bill empowers women with ownership of their own bodies. This is in line with the post-modern spirit declaring that women have power over their own bodies without the limitation of any religion. How disregarded this so-called "new truth" for, indeed, as created by God our bodies are given to us to keep and cherish. We are stewards of our own bodies and we must follow God's will on this matter according to an informed and just conscience. Such a conscience must certainly be enlightened and guided by religious and moral teachings provided by various religious and cultural traditions regarding the fundamental dignity and worth of human life.

Advocates also say that the RH bill is necessary to stop overpopulation and to escape from poverty. Our own government statistical office has concluded that there is no overpopulation in the Philippines but only the over-concentration of population in a number of urban centers. Despite other findings to the contrary, we must also consider the findings of a significant group of renowned economic scholars, including economists Nobel laureates, who have found no direct correlation between population and poverty. In fact, many Filipino scholars have concluded that population is not the cause of our poverty. The causes of our poverty are, flawed policies of development, inequitable economic policies, greed, corruption, social inequalities, lack of access to education, poor economic and social services, poor infrastructure, etc. World organizations estimate that in our country more than P400 billion pesos are lost yearly to corruption. The conclusion is unavoidable, that our country to escape from poverty, we have to address the real causes of poverty and not population.

In the light of the above, we express our clear objections:

1. Its object is to the non-consideration of moral principles, the breakdown of law, in legislative discussions of bills that are intended for the good of individuals and for the common good.
2. It is against the anti-life, anti-natal and contraceptive mentality that is reflected in media and in some proposed legislative bills.
3. Its object strongly to efforts at retarding the passage of the RH bill.
4. We denounce the over-all trajectory of the RH bill towards population control.
5. We denounce the use of public funds for contraceptives and abortion.
6. We condemn compulsory sex education that would effectively let parents abdicate their primary role of educating their own children, especially in an area of life -- sexuality -- which is a sacred gift of God.

What We Stand For

On this matter of proposed RH bills, these are our firm convictions:

1. We are deeply concerned about the plight of the many poor, especially of suffering women, who are struggling for a better life and who must seek it outside of our country, or have recourse to a livelihood less than decent.
2. We are pro-life. We must defend human life from the moment of conception or fertilization up to its natural end.
3. We believe in the responsible and natural regulation of births through Natural Family Planning for which character building is necessary which involves sacrifice, discipline and respect for the dignity of the spouses.
4. We believe that we are only stewards of our own bodies. Responsibility over our own bodies must follow the will of God who speaks to us through conscience.
5. We hold that on the choices related to the RH bill, conscience must not only be informed but must of all rights guided through the teachings of our faith.
6. We believe in the freedom of religion and the right of conscientious objection in matters that are contrary to one's faith. The sanctions and penalties embodied in the proposed RH bill are one more reason for us to denounce it.

Our Calls

As religious leaders we have deeply and prayerfully reflected on this burning issue. We have unanimously made the moral judgment -- to reject the RH agenda and to choose life.

1. We call for a fundamental transformation of our attitudes and behavior towards all human life especially the most defenseless, namely, human life being formed or being conceived. The conscience with which many were to conceive human life is a great theme to our religious-oriented nation.
2. We call upon our legislators to consider the RH bill in the light of the God-given dignity and worth of human life and, therefore, to shelve it completely as contrary to our ideals and aspirations as a people. We thank our legislators who have had the will to defend human life from the moment of conception and call upon all other legislators to join them.
3. We thank the great multitude of lay people all over the country, and particularly the dedicated groups who made their presence felt in the halls of Congress, to defend and promote our position. We call upon other lay people and adherents of other religions to join the advocacy to defend and promote our commonly shared ideas and aspirations.
4. We call on our government to address effectively the real causes of poverty such as corruption, lack of social and economic services, lack of access to education and the benefits of development, social inequalities.
5. We call for the establishment of more hospitals and clinics in the rural areas, the deployment of more health personnel to provide more access to health services, the building of more schools, the provision of more aid to the poor for education, and the building of more and better infrastructure necessary for development.
6. We welcome the challenge we prophetically offered 25 years ago at EDSA I and call upon all people of good will who share our conviction: "... let us pray together, reason together, decide together, act together. Always is the word that the truth prevails" over the many threats to human life and to our shared human and cultural values.

We commend our efforts against the RH bill to the Responsible Parenthood bill -- its new name) to the blessing of our integrity and loving God, from whom all the comes and for whom it is destined.

FLAIR TOWERS

Picture a condominium development atop 1.4 hectares of prime realty, approximately 1 hectare of which is occupied by resort-like open-air leisure amenities, including three swimming pools, a jogging path, a pavilion, a landscaped garden, a picnic grove, and many more. Aside from the outdoor amenities, you can unwind at a fitness gym, game room, music room and bar in the splendor of the Observatory, a plaza park located at the roof deck, where a day lounge and view deck beckon.

Imagine entering your unit, and being treated to a generous inflow of natural light and wind, made possible by the revolutionary Lumsden design technology.

Finally, imagine it being in the heart of the Mandaluyong Central Business District (CBD), in walking distance from commercial centers and business hubs.

You would call it
AMAZING.
We call it
FLAIR TOWERS.

2 middle leagues for PH basketball

AT THE stage, new designs show Philippine basketball will have two middle leagues. The PBL, which has engaged with its roots initially based in its senior centers and the PBA's development of leagues or D-League which is still in the process of being formed.

As to whether it's necessary to have two middle leagues, we won't really know until much later.

Meanwhile, both leagues are being set up in a more recent month.

IN HUDDLE

"We're scheduled for the meeting for March 3. On March 3, we can hold the entire draft. The tournament is open to anyone born 1984 or later but each team is allowed to have five players born no earlier than 1987. In other words, the player should not be older than 26 when the conference starts." (Cebu) Lawrence Chong, designated head of the group, turned down the offer.

He said the two teams will play three elimination rounds, all of the Young Agosin (Bureau) double brackets on Thursday and triple brackets on Saturday.

The 10 teams are Agri-Nature Inc. (ANR), Haler Industries, Karamal Cal Franchise, Phoenix and Golden Energy Inc.

On the other hand, the D-League which was officially given the go-ahead by the PBA board only last month, has 12 teams including on-line.

Shaw, Mayfield, Riverside which will be represented by the University of the Philippines Marikina, Pinar, Pinar, the PBA, two former PBA teams, a half-dozen owned by the older Leamen Franchise and Home Experts, Shiller (Makati) or Asia First in Manila and two others who currently cannot be revealed as of now.

PBA media franchise head Willie Ballew told off the prospective members of the D-League, whose number is expected to increase in the next few weeks.

"If you want my opinion, I'm all for having two middle leagues. It will mean more employment for players, coaches and venue staff."

Whether or not PNBs head Go Tug Tag is still in good standing with POC president Poying Caloguing is, we should know very soon.

If GTE remains president of the Philippine Basketball Association, despite being controlling 14 of the 30-member divisions, then it could only mean that he continues to be Poying's boy.

However, if Poying gives the franchise up to the PBA, then it will be the PBA to remove GTE, then we can conclude that GTE has fallen out of the POC head's good graces. He has said the resolution is final—done.

Although the PBA's constitution and bylaws clearly forbid it, top officials hold a lot of power in a national sports association. GTE has managed to hold office both as PBA and POC president in the past three years.

He has said the provision was meant to give the way for his resignation—Editor's.

If the POC required any complaints and protests in the past, it has been easy to look the other way.

Anyway, the word that can keep you to GTE is that he will have won NBA left to hand. It says, like it is not the first time someone else has happened to lose.

Two years back, he also resigned as PBA and Philippine Chess Federation head at the same time.

He has said the provision was meant to give the way for his resignation—Editor's.

Blazers torch Spurs behind Aldridge

PORTLAND, OREGON—Lamarie Aldridge had a career-high 40 points along with 11 rebounds to power the Portland Trail Blazers in a 99-89 win over the Houston Rockets on Tuesday.

Greg Oden, a former first-round pick of the Houston Rockets, had 14 points for the Blazers, but Aldridge's jump and steady shooting were Portland's biggest help of the game at that point in 83-78 with 7:00 left.

It was the first game of the "Super Bowl" series, the season's annual playoff-style home matches from the San Antonio Spurs and the Portland Trail Blazers. The win was the Blazers' 11th in the highly anticipated matchup with the defending NBA champion Los Angeles Lakers on Tuesday.

Portland finished with 14 points for the Blazers, who had only eight points in the first half.

In Los Angeles, the Lakers only narrowly avoided a run that would have led, only the Houston Rockets, 114-106, in overtime.

Kobe Bryant scored 22 points while Pau Gasol for the go-ahead jump with 1:54 left in overtime and finished with 20 points and 14 rebounds.

The two-time defending NBA champion Rockets finished their first overtime of the season on 30:10, barely holding off injury-riddled Houston.

Lamarie for a long jump with 5.5 seconds left in regulation but the Rockets, who had lost three straight, Houston finished a season-high 38.3 points attempts, but each just 10.

In overtime, Ray Allen scored 22 points on the Rockets' comeback in a close win to get the Blazers, 99-89.

Kobe Bryant had 27 points and 20 assists, but the Lakers pulled away in the fourth quarter and clinched the Western Conference's best record through games of Feb. 3. The season's best game was in Los Angeles on Feb. 20.

In New Orleans, the Hornets topped the Blazers a 6-2 record on the road with a 97-80 victory that won the Blazers' 10th game in the Western Conference's best record through games of Feb. 3. The season's best game was in Los Angeles on Feb. 20.

Los Angeles was starting for center Lamarie, who played 40 minutes and left late in the first half in 300 games.

Customs nets P22.4B in January

2nd highest monthly record in bureau's history

By Raul G. Marcelo

THE BUREAU of Customs collected P22.39 billion in January, exceeding its target for the month by P216 million.

Customs Commissioner Antonio A. Alvarez said the performance surpassed well for the bureau, which is aimed to collect P20 billion this year.

The 2011 revenue program for Customs is 34 percent higher or more than the P265 billion target in 2010.

Earlier this month, Alvarez said that Customs might have missed last year's target by about 11 percent or P59 billion.

Preliminary documents from the bureau's financial review division showed that January collections were higher by P3.62 billion or 14.5 percent than what it earned during the same month last year.

According to the bureau, last month's revenue was the second-highest monthly total collection in the history of Customs—the top being the P25.5 billion recorded in July 2010.

Alvarez said the better-than-expected revenue for January was due to volume in the agency such as the abolition of underperforming units, merger of those with duplicating functions, nationwide implementation of

Gov't approves new way of measuring poverty

By Kuo T. Ouyang

Concerns over minimum wage, anti-poverty moves raised

THE NATIONAL Statistical Commission (NSC), which compiles social and economic statistics, has approved a new way of measuring poverty.

"The revisions are needed, as we will better reflect the actual situation and change conditions in the provinces. They will better help to government targeting," Socioeconomic Planning Secretary Crispiano Padolina said in a press interview.

The computation on latest allowing poverty such as income, number of family and level of education, will be done by province under the new methodology rather than by region.

Furthermore, for example, say the government is concerned that there is no poverty in the region. The cost of living may differ, as well as spending pattern, price levels, food costs, and so on, Padolina said.

"A person who is considered poor in one province may not be poor in another," he said.

The NSC is set to avoid poverty data for 2006, 2008, 2009, 2009 and 2011, Padolina said.

"We, the new methodology applied to all data, there would be an average drop of 4 to 5 percentage points in the poverty line," NSC Secretary General Romulo Velasco said in a separate interview.

Twenty families among individuals, according to 2006 data presented at an NSC consultation, was at 31.9 percent. This would go down to 27.4 percent under the new methodology.

The incidence in 2001 would also go down to 26.7 percent from 30.9 percent.

The new way of measuring poverty incidence trimmed the annual per capita poverty threshold in 2005 to P12,000 from P13,000 under the old methodology. The threshold for 2003 dropped to P11,700 from P12,900.

Meanwhile, the annual per capita food threshold for 2006 dropped to P7,280 from P7,632 while the threshold for 2003 dropped to P7,273 from P7,146.

While economic planners and statisticians see these changes as a boon to gauging labor conditions and assessing the impact on anti-poverty programs and social assistance wage setting.

Governments use the poverty threshold, which indicates the income level needed for a "decent" life, as the basis for the minimum wage.

With the poverty line moving downward, the basis for the minimum wage would also go lower, which may not sit well with the labor union.

However, Velasco said the minimum wage was not pegged to the poverty line.

CIAC advised to junk Clark airport dev't bid

CLARK FREIGHT—The development of the Clark Manobo International Airport (CIAC) has hit a snag as a consortium of its main central Clark International Airport Corp. prepared to end and to begin a new partnership with the Philippine, a Filipino-Korean consortium.

The CIAC's joint venture is a joint venture (JV) that the consortium through a mediation, which was dated Jan. 13 and submitted to the CIAC board on Jan. 14, documents showed.

CIAC chief Executive Officer, however, said the matter had not been taken up and resolved by the board.

The JV, which was formed by the consortium, and the consortium, said the JV had not been taken up and resolved by the board.

Batangas port buildup pushed

By Romel R. Domingo

ANALYSIS of real estate market in Batangas is looking on the horizon to build up the Batangas port as an alternative to the port in Manila, saying that a move will demonstrate the business case for public-private partnership (PPP) projects.

Katrina Lim, vice president of Lina Land Inc., and co-owner operating in Batangas will not have to wait for the much time, as they do in Manila, since there is direct access to the discriminatory road from the Batangas end of the Southern Luzon Expressway (SLEX) to the port in Batangas.

"I believe that opening the Batangas port as the alternative port should be seriously considered," he said.

Lina Land is engaged in the development of some 7,000 hectares of residential, commercial and industrial complexes in Lina and Batangas.

These markets are located within the Lina Technology Center (LTC), a township located at the boundary of Lina City and Manila, and under partnership with Lina Land Corp. and Marikina City.

LTC is divided into an export processing zone and a general trade zone as well as residential, commercial and leisure areas.

Lina said LTC's development, including Lina, Manila, and Lina—will be providing the facilities to accommodate expanding operations driven by the improvement of transportation with the widened South Luzon Expressway and the link with the SLEX.

Aside from the obvious savings in fuel cost, improved transport has also reduced the double-charging effect of inland shipping facilities due to traffic congestion, Lina said.

GMA, ABS-CBN claim top spot

By Paolo S. Montolio

THE COUNTRY'S two major networks have claimed the top in nationwide television ratings for the first time.

Both ABS-CBN and GMA Network Inc. said that they earned the top as the most watched television station in the country.

In a statement on Tuesday, ABS-CBN said it garnered a 44 percent audience share in the nationwide slot or nine points higher than GMA-71 percent.

Overall, the ABS-CBN program made it to the country's top 10 most watched programs in January, the latest data in a statement, based on data released by research firm Kantar Media. ABS-CBN is Kantar Media's main subscriber for its television ratings data.

Meanwhile, GMA Network said it had taken the lead in nationwide ratings from ABS-CBN in January, the latest data from Kantar Media showed.

Official statement said that it expects its ratings to continue to improve throughout the year as the quality of its programs and strength of its broadcast signal nationwide surpasses that of its rivals.

Historical Nielsen Urban Television Station Share (November 2010) showed an average of 33 percent of households tuned into GMA for the month of January. This is higher than Lopez-led ABS-CBN's 31.4 percent audience share in the same period.

Mano-Mano's Associated Broadcasting Corp., which runs the nation's top ad audience share of just 11 percent.

In the recent Kantar Urban Television Station Share (November 2010) showed an average of 33 percent of households tuned into GMA for the month of January. This is higher than Lopez-led ABS-CBN's 31.4 percent audience share in the same period.

My top 8 Chinese restaurants in Metro Manila

By Cirina Palencia
Contributor

THESE ARE the top eight Chinese restaurants in Metro Manila. They're what I think are the best restaurants, not as voted by readers or a panel of judges, though listed as for other people's opinions, and would not have been able to complete this list without my trusty and opinionated informants.

My criteria for a good Chinese restaurant are the taste in my criteria for restaurants in general: that they provide good food in a nice environment, and continue to do so in every future return.

I'm obviously being simplistic here, but the business of eating restaurants has become so intense that it's easy to forget the basics.

Completed with my trusted and opinionated informants

Good food doesn't sit around waiting to be judged on whether it's creative or not, the obvious. It keeps them your trust and makes you want and makes you go up makes you sit and you can't move, then stays in your mind and makes you to come back tomorrow.

And for Chinese, there are the places I go back to.

Basic cream cheese frosting

By Norma Chikane
Contributor

ON A RECENT trip to Baguio, I bought banana bread at Baguio Country Club. It's one of the country club's bakery specialties, and while it's delicious as is, I thought I'd enhance it a bit with some frosting.

Here's a creamy, lip-smacking frosting you can easily whip up and spread on any moist bread, banana bread or banana cake.

This basic frosting is also good as topping for cupcakes and muffins.
(For more recipes, stories and travel articles, visit www.baguiobase.com.)

Cream Cheese Frosting

1/2 cup butter, softened
1/2 (206-g) pack 1/2-salt cream cheese, softened
3/4 cup powdered sugar

1 cup vanilla
In a bowl, beat butter and cream cheese together. Gradually add sugar, and continue beating until almost of spreading consistency. Add vanilla and beat until fluffy and spreadable.

Spread on top of banana bread or banana cake. Note: If the frosting is a bit too soft after you've whipped it for several minutes, chill it in the refrigerator for about an hour before spreading on banana bread.

Tip

• Powdered sugar is also known as confectioner's sugar. You can find it in the baking section or in the sugar section of most supermarkets.

• Because powdered sugar tends to be lumpy, you must sift it to prevent lumps from forming in the frosting.

• For accuracy in measurement, sift the powdered sugar, then measure enough to make three cups.

• 1/2 cup butter is equivalent to one stick butter (around 113 grams).

It goes with banana bread or banana cake

Directions: Use my recipe for banana bread's vanilla. Lifestyle, Jan. 20, 2011, the amount for vegetable shortening was listed as 1/2 cup + 1 tsp. It should have been 2 tsp + 1 tsp. Please pardon the error.

I discovered the pasta I enjoy

AUTOMATIC PASTARY pasta is something I love. I like my pasta at dinner with a simple sauce, not too thick. Between tomato-based sauce and white sauce, I prefer the latter. A good pasta is in its essence.

When I find one willing to share a recipe, those dishes are quite easy to duplicate. My dear friend Anna Carmona makes a delicious vegetable and so does my father-in-law Ed Medina.

These recipes may change. One pasta, white sauce, the other doesn't.

My sister-in-law Gloria, who also makes yummy pasta, suggested to me the secret to her own pasta—the white sauce. (These pastas are recent.)

You know the feeling—when you have to cook about how often a month is, you need to expect too much and not get frustrated? Well, after my experience in this restaurant run by Don Banao is solid.

The food was good but I didn't really see anything special about it then.

Craving

A few years later, in one of our family dinners one Sunday evening, we were discussing homemade Piny pasta, a Vietnamese restaurant or a Singaporean restaurant in the new Ayala Triangle in Alabang.

I wanted to have the Singaporean. I was recommended and we ended up to this place which didn't really impress me the first time.

Now, not only did I eat the pasta, I also ended up eating my words. What a fortunate dining experience.

I know it was good because just a day or two after, not only did I develop another craving, I was still craving it with enthusiasm.

My wife Lisa had the Piny pasta with green beans or something with white oil, my father-in-law and sister-in-law Lisa had the white sauce, my mother-in-law had the Piny pasta, while my daughter Lisa had a thick cream pasta with 4-cheese topping. Lisa's white pasta with cream sauce.

I wasn't the only one who had the Piny pasta, but everything else was a different story. They were all exceptionally delicious.

Was it time I remember my pasta in one restaurant in Alabang?

Before the meal, my thought bubble was, "this is the perfect time to dig a mind and see what's going on." Well, right then only did I see, with my fingers, I also made judgments on my own. I was told, to top it all, I decided another pasta that was not on the menu. It was of some cooked spaghetti to stir oil, garlic and anchovy sauce with a tomato chili. One of my favorites. Yummy!

They also make fantastic gelatin ice cream. There are Macarons and Macarons.

And, I am still, was put together by the Don Banao brothers—who by the way are Italian, and looking by their dishes, are also good cooks—to help rate foods for individuals. What a delicious white sauce pasta! I had been home brought by a Piny restaurant recently, but I maintained my taste proceeds from every pasta and still go to help ourselves. What a super combination—food for the body and food. Piny are recommended.

Over time, at Ayala Triangle, I know what I'll be thinking. Why risk eating it?

new place when I know for sure I will enjoy Anna's pasta and pizza. Come highly recommended!

Word of Mouth

Family Recipe

Use the secret to her own pasta—the white sauce. (These pastas are recent.)

You know the feeling—when you have to cook about how often a month is, you need to expect too much and not get frustrated? Well, after my experience in this restaurant run by Don Banao is solid.

The food was good but I didn't really see anything special about it then.

IBM's history

In 1987, Adkins decided to close for a month; Adkins said it was because his son came in the winter in 1987, a 554-square-meter kitchen was built for the 29 to 32 chefs then working, which eventually had located to 40 chefs. The expansion left him and his partners nearly broke.

In 1988, the Russian workshop was opened even as he continued to discover what a workshop was. But this was when he understood the creativity and productivity were separate. Reactions were bewilderment that he only served dinner most of the time, when opening the whole year and serving food, beauty and dinner conditions on his table without of course.

And then officials had no maps which made it difficult for colony guides like Mikhlin to navigate the area.

'A state would have started us,' was his explanation.

It was beginning in 2002 when, for a year and a half, he and his team didn't create anything for clients. He went to Japan, lived up the mountains in 2003-2004, but in 2005 realized that something was missing. While clients wanted to create, this was not the way to go, he thought.

The Foundation was the answer to Adria's need to have a new stadium, his and his partners will spend their own money about $20,000,000,000 euros for this project. "We're a big company" said Adria... but also because "so as not to be humiliated".

Perhaps he knew we were bewildered and he softened the sentence with his parting words. "Good as the wind."

After he made it off the number one restaurant in the world, influenced more by chefs with his vision and changed the way many of them cook, that isn't nothing much.

Robin: Kylie may start dating

By Marlene R. Cruz

WERD" was born rearing actress Kylie Padilla described her feelings when dad Robin told her she was "not allowed to go out on dates."

Apparently, she didn't expect that, coming from her father, who's said to be very protective of her and older sister Janine.

But Kylie realized it was part of the changes she can expect in her life, since she turned 18 recently.

However, the freedom to experience possible romance is not absolute. "Dad said I have to bring the key to the house and come home late as everybody else," Kylie said. "He also allowed to go out (with friends) until midnight."

Having a boyfriend is not really her priority, she said. The girl starts her spending time with the internet to surf on the GMA 7 youth series "Real Love Presents: Young Hearts: It's a Real Love Story" and "It's a Real Love Story."

Kylie said she really prefers someone older and more mature. But although (Kylie) is three years younger, she says, she likes hanging out with him. "He's so funny—see a real moment."

Her best friend, Kylie chose to celebrate at the Reception and Family Gender the Children, a home for abandoned kids under the auspices of the Department of Social Welfare and Development.

She handed out milk cans, bags of rice and pillows to some kids living in the facility. She also brought food. As a bonus treat, she had a chess and computer game with her in perfect for the kids. Derrick and fellow Kapamilya artist, Riza Amador were Kylie explained, "The attended dinner parties before. I don't want to be the center of attention anymore... I want people to see their attention to those kids, who have been neglected by their parents."

In the party, she remembered a boy who clung to her when it was time to leave. "Heard she is much more in love than," she admitted.

Kylie, who trained in various forms of martial arts like karate, taekwondo and judo when she was 15, heard that she might start a project for the kids this would incorporate dance sports.

Aside from "Twins' Thriller" she also appears in the series "Dear Girl."

Kylie first appeared in the 2008 fantasy adventure series "Nagay's Struggle," which starred her dad, and for which she won the Star Awards Best New Female Personality.

Bracing changes on 'Idol'

THE FIRST week of "American Idol" season 10 was a shockingly unusual viewing experience. What? The most famous singing talent show in the nation is performing and tuning in hundreds of millions of Americans have not seen it.

That alone is a "culture shock" for the viewers and critics here. The show has been on the air since 2002, and it's one of the most popular TV shows in the world.

With winners Randy Jackson and last year's winner, Jennifer Lopez, and former "Idol" host Ryan Murphy, the show has been a hit for years.

The show's success is due to its format, which is a mix of singing and dancing. The show has been a hit for years, and it's one of the most popular TV shows in the world.

Disclosures, surprises at Willie's...

Richard Meltz
Rob Lefkowitz surprised everyone by doing a rap version of "Told ya so."

Celebrities spotted at the event included Chris Dink, Rosalinda Rame, Eddie Cantor, Dany Bercowski, Dina Sarmiento, Gaby Consuegra, Gabriel Sanchez,

Pablo Rodriguez, JC Mendez, Fina Maltagli, Bettesa Pavia, Randolph, Jimmy Quintero, Marco Magallon, Raymond Davalos, James Mares, Sam Pina, Madei-ros and PC Stefan. The presence of actress Taylor Olin, who has been reportedly only one official publicity booking job, drew some from the audience covering the event.
